We are images of . . . the past.

We are images of . . . the present.

Blurred visions quickly turn to past experiences as the present becomes the future. Our experiences, although only a flicker in time, help us to develop into what we are -- a picture of the upcoming world.

May we always hold to memories of our past, for they help us to determine our actions in the future. We are, at this point in time, the Reflections of what has come and gone. We are the negative of the upcoming world, slowly developing into our future being. From influences and pressures beyond our control we have been molded into what we are, images of the past, the present and the future.

In memroy of Linn Freeman who drowned on May 21, 1975.

A LONG ROAD

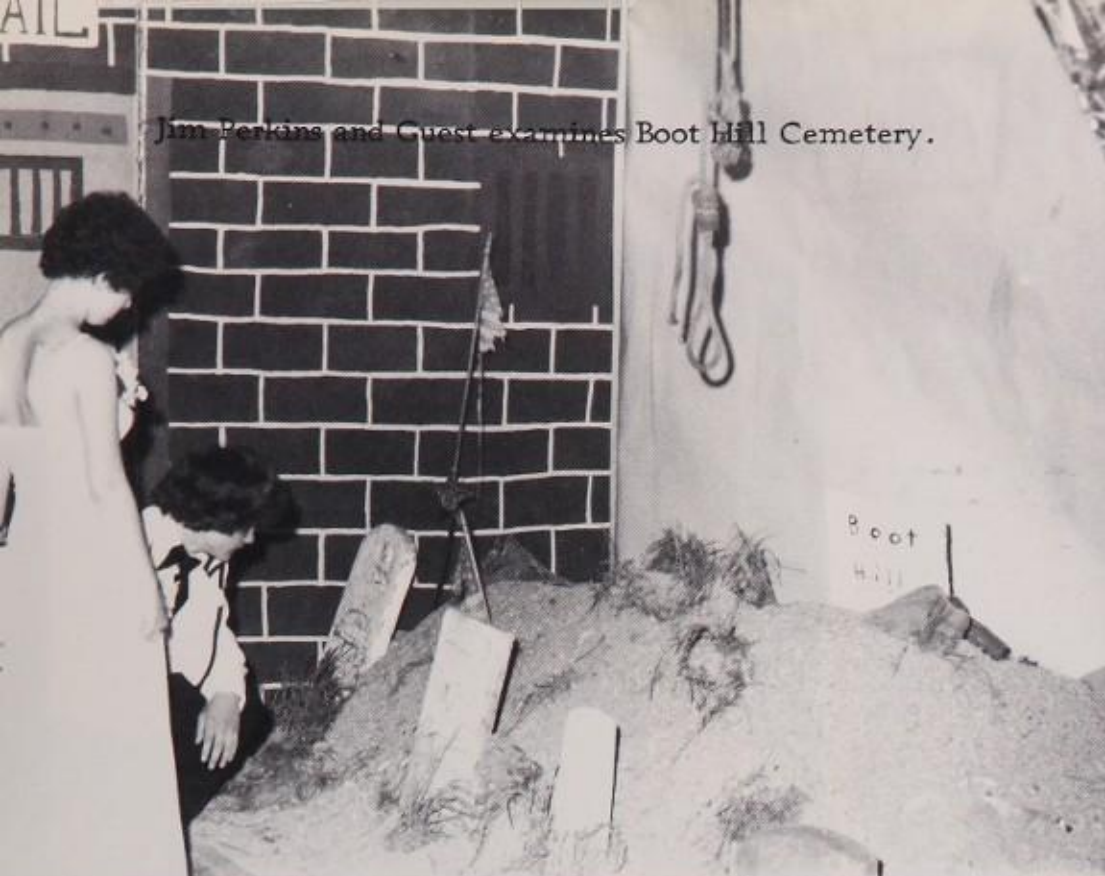

Seniors, we have traveled a long road together,
On this road we have known pain and sorrow.
On this road we have known joy and much happiness.
Now the time is near when you will have to continue alone on this road.

You will travel this road showing the world what you have earned, and how you can improve our world.
And while traveling, you will become wiser and stronger in heart.

And though we, the Class of 80-0, will miss you--
We wish you, the Class of 79, much success and happiness.

Karen Klapproth, Salutatorian, reviews the past 12 years together.

Thanks for all the memories
In which you've played a part,
For they are always nearest
And dearest to my heart . . .

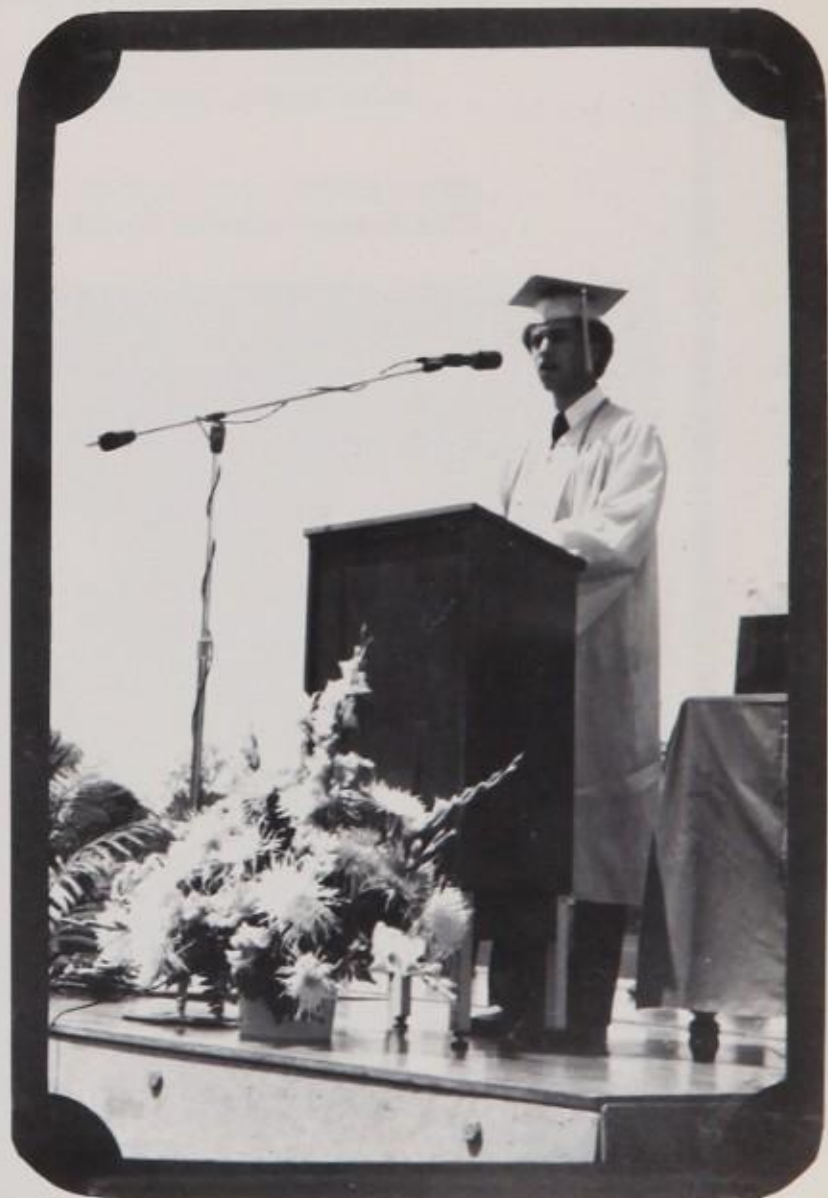

Thanks for all the memories
That are yours and mine
alone,
For they recall so many Special moments I have known . . .

We are images of . . . the future.

Junior High students are visions of all their childhood fantasies and of some adult reality. Presently, they are fogged reflections slowly clearing so that we may see the future they determine more vividly.

Without help from the following people this yearbook could not have been possible:
the staff members, especially those who have done so much beyond their original assignment;
the staff member's parents, for their chauffer services to and from yearbook staff meetings;
Phtorama, for their excellent services and photographic productions, which add to the yearbooks originality;
Mr. Earl Parks, our yearbook representative, for all his help; the local merchants, for supporting our book;
Mrs. Ruth Auker and Mrs. Betty Wellar, our terrific advisors, for all their advice, hours of long work in putting the yearbook together and making things right, when you were sure that they were all botched up; and,
Mr. Alton McClung for being so helpful and understanding of our needs as a yearbook staff.

We have tried our best to sum up the 1978-79 school year. We hope that you enjoy our presentation, as much as we enjoyed putting it together.

Thank You,
Rebecca L. Mitchell
